27,090 marriages. Hence, for every hundred of the estimated population there were 3·10 births, 1·95 deaths, and 0·66 marriages. When compared with the corresponding proportions for last year (Tables I. and II.), an increase is found in the case of the births and deaths, while a diminution occurs with the marriages.

The excess of births over deaths is 47,399.

127,040 births were registered throughout Scotland during the year, equivalent to a birth-rate of 3·10 per cent. or 310 for every ten thousand of the population as estimated. Of these 65,003 are males and 62,037 females.

Tables IV. and V. afford some information regarding the distribution of these throughout the five Registration districts into which the whole country is primarily divided. In the Principal Town districts the births registered amount to 52,949, being in the proportion of 3·25 per cent. of the estimated population of the same, 27,033 are males, and 25,916 females; in the Large Town districts they are 17,084, being in the ratio of 3·33 per cent. of the inhabitants, males 8,744, females 8,340; in the Small Town districts the natal events are 28,164, and equal to 3·19 per cent. of the population of the same, males 14,452, females 13,712; in the Mainland-Rural districts they are 26,112, at the rate of 2·76 per cent, males 13,368, females 12,744; and in the Insular-Rural districts they amount to 2,731, or 2·18 per cent. of the inhabitants, males 1,406, females 1,325. These proportions indicate the highest birth-rate to have been in the Large Town districts, followed in order by the Principal Town districts, Small Town districts, Mainland-Rural and Insular-Rural districts.

9,400 of the total births were illegitimate, equivalent to 7·4 per cent. of all. This rate varies in each district, being 9·7 per cent. in the Mainland-Rural districts, 7·2 per cent. in the Principal Town districts, 6·8 per cent. in the Small Town districts, 6·0 per cent. in the Large Town districts, and 4·7 per cent. in the Insular-Rural districts.

Table VI. gives the proportion of such births in the eight divisions and in each county of Scotland. The highest rate, that of 13·2 per cent., occurs in the North-Eastern Division, followed by the Southern, with 12·4 per cent.; the East-Midland, with 7·6 per cent.; the South-Eastern, with being 13·1 per cent. in Kirkcudbright, 13·2 per cent. in Aberdeen, 13·4 per cent. in Banff, 14·8 per cent. in Elgin, and 15·1 per cent. in Wigtown.

65,003 of the total 127,040 births during the year being male, and 62,037 female infants, the proportion of the former to the latter is as 104·8 is to 100; a proportion which, as is seen, varies somewhat in each district, the greatest difference being 106·1 in the Insular-Rural districts, the least 104·3 in the Principal Town districts.

Births were registered throughout the country, month by month, as follows:—387 daily during May, 365 during June, 361 during April, 352 during March, 343 during September, 340 during February and July, 338 during August, 332 during January and November, 318 during December, and 315 each day during October.

DEATHS.

79,641 deaths are registered throughout Scotland during the year: males 39,593, females 40,048, together giving a mortality rate of 1·95 per cent., or 195 in every ten thousand of the estimated inhabitants.

The rate varies in each district, being highest in the Principal Town districts, 216 per ten thousand of the population of the same; 205 in the Large Town districts; 186 in the Small Town districts; 165 in the Mainland-Rural districts; and lowest, 151, in the Insular-Rural districts.

27,090 marriages were registered throughout Scotland during 1893, which is in the proportion of 66 in every ten thousand of the population as estimated.

This rate, as with the others, varies in each district from 80 per ten thousand of the inhabitants in the Principal Town districts to 35, the lowest, in the Insular-Rural districts; the intermediate rates being 69 in the Large Town districts, 61 in the Small Town districts, and 49 in the Mainland-Rural districts.

EIGHT OF THE PRINCIPAL TOWNS OF SCOTLAND.

The remarks now to be made deal with the various Registration events which occurred during the year in the following eight Principal Towns in Scotland, viz., Glasgow, Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, Leith, Paisley, Greenock, and Perth, the information upon which they are founded being furnished by the weekly returns from the Registrars of the same. It is considered that the facts relating to them apply in a great degree to the country at large.

BIRTHS IN THESE EIGHT TOWNS.

The births registered in these towns during the year amount to 46,998, which is in the proportion of 321 in every ten thousand of the population as estimated. The highest rate is attained in Glasgow, where it is 342 per ten thousand; followed by Paisley, with a corresponding rate of 332; Greenock, with one of 330; Aberdeen, with one of 327; Leith, with one of 320; Dundee, with one of 298; while Edinburgh and Perth, each show the same, viz., 278.

Of the total births 43,446 were legitimate, and 3552 illegitimate, a percentage of the latter to the former of 7.5. Such occurred in greatest proportion in Aberdeen, where 10.1 per cent. of the births are of this nature, followed by Dundee, with 9.1 per cent.; Perth with 8.7 per cent.; Edinburgh, with 8.5 per cent.; Glasgow, with 6.9 per cent.; Leith and Paisley each with 6.1 per cent.; and Greenock, with 5.0 per cent. In Table VIII. is also found the proportion of illegitimate births registered during the year to the number of widows and spinsters between the ages of 15 and 45 years estimated to be living in these towns. Aberdeen stands first with 2.10 per cent.; followed by Glasgow, with 1.73 per cent.; Leith with 1.71 per cent.; Dundee, with 1.60 per cent.; Perth, with 1.52 per cent.; Greenock, with 1.37 per cent.; Edinburgh, with 1.34 per cent.; and Paisley, with 1.29 per cent.

Of the 46,998 births in these towns 23,992 are males and 23,008 females. So that for every 100 of the latter there were born 104.3 of the former.

DEATHS IN THESE EIGHT TOWNS.

31,806 deaths were registered in these towns during the year, being at the rate of 217 per ten thousand of their estimated population. The males number 15,979 and the females 15,827.

The death rate is highest in Glasgow, where 233 in every ten thousand of its estimated inhabitants died during the year; followed by Dundee, with a rate of 222; Paisley and Perth, each with one of 220; Greenock, with one of 209; Edinburgh, with one of 197; Leith with one of 191, and Aberdeen, with one of 185. When compared with the corresponding for last year 1892, the rate is seen on Table IX. to be higher in each town for the present year, with the exception of Aberdeen and Leith, where the reverse holds, and when a further comparison is made between the present year and the mean of the preceding ten, a diminution is found to have taken place in all with the exception of Dundee and Perth, that in Edinburgh being exactly the same.

Table X. is prepared to give some information regarding the deaths of children under five years of age in these towns, the total number of which amount to 13112, and this out of an estimated population at the same age of 178,495 gives a death rate of 73 per 1000. In Dundee the corresponding rate is 90 per 1000 alive at that age; in Glasgow, it is 81; in Greenock, it is 71; in Leith, it is 65; in Edinburgh, it is 64; in Paisley, it is 6; in Perth it is 55; and in Aberdeen, it is 48. From the last column of the table it is seen how in every hundred of the total deaths in Dundee during the year 48 were of children under five years of age; the rate in Glasgow and Leith, being 44; in Greenock, 43; in Paisley, 37; in Edinburgh, 35; in Aberdeen, 32; and in Perth 28.

Tables XI. and XII. indicate the mortality-rate from various diseases and classes of disease in each of the eight towns, the first table being computed with reference to the population, and the second to the total deaths from all causes. The mortality-rate in the eight towns collectively is 2·170 per cent. of their inhabitants as estimated to be living therein, and varying somewhat in each, from 2·330 per cent. in Glasgow the highest, to 1·847 per cent. in Aberdeen the lowest. The rate from Zymotics in the towns together is 0·391 per cent. of their population, and forms 18·05 per cent. of the total deaths in the same. The inhabitants of Dundee suffered from these diseases at the rate of 0·466 per cent.; in Glasgow, at 0·445 per cent.; in Greenock, at 0·439 per cent.; in Paisley, at 0·383 per cent.; in Leith, at 0·358 per cent.; in Perth, at 0·353 per cent.; in Edinburgh, at 0·297 per cent.; and in Aberdeen, at 0·222 per cent. The percentages of deaths from Zymotic causes to the total deaths were 21·04 in Greenock; 21·01 in Dundee; 19·10 in Glasgow; 18·81 in Leith; 17·50 in Paisley; 16·26 in Perth; 15·12 in Edinburgh; and 12·08 in Aberdeen.

In Glasgow, in every 100 deaths, 5·46 were due to measles; 4·54 to Hooping-Cough; 3·31 to Diarrhœa and Dysentery; 1·67 to Scarlet Fever; 1·33 to Diphtheria; and 0·86 to Fever (0·77 being Enteric or Typhoid); 0·53 to Influenza; and 0·16 to Small Pox.

In Edinburgh, 3·21 in every 100 deaths were due to measles; 2·98 to Hooping-Cough; 2·79 to Diarrhœa and Dysentery; 1·54 to Influenza; 1·12 to diphtheria; 1·08 to Scarlet Fever; and 0·82 to Fevers (0·78 being Typhoid).

In Dundee, Measles caused 6·68 deaths in every 100; Diarrhœa and Dysentery 6·01; Hooping-Cough 3·75; Fevers 1·23 (0·31 being typhus and 0·92 Typhoid); Diphtheria 1·06; Influenza 0·40; Scarlet Fever but 0·14; and Small Pox 0·03.

In Aberdeen, 3·31 in every 100 deaths, were due to Diarrhœa and Dysentery; 2·64 to Influenza; 1·72 to Diphtheria; 0·58 to Fevers (0·46 being Enteric); 0·42 to Scarlet Fever; 0·33 to Hooping-Cough; and 0·04 to Small Pox.

In Leith, 4·15 in every 100 deaths were due to Measles; 3·26 to Diarrhœal Affections; 2·74 to Scarlet Fever; 2·52 to Diphtheria; 1·78 to Hooping-Cough; 1·26 to Fever (0·37 Typhus and 0·82 Typhoid); and 0·74 to Influenza and Small Pox.

In Paisley, 3·70 in every 100 deaths were due to Measles; 3·31 to Fevers (0·07 Typhus and 3·17 Typhoid or Enteric); 3·04 to Diarrhœa and Dysentery; 1·85 to both Hooping-Cough and Diphtheria; 0·92 to Influenza; and 0·86 to Scarlet Fever.

In Greenock, 9·72 in every 100 deaths were due to Measles; 3·52 to Diarrhœal Affections; 2·22 to Hooping-Cough; 1·30 to Fevers (0·31 Typhus and 0·99 Typhoid); 1·22 to Influenza; 0·99 to Diphtheria; and 0·15 to Scarlet Fever.

In Perth, 4·10 per 100 deaths were due to Diarrhœa and Dysentery; 3·49 to Hooping-Cough; 2·43 to Measles; 1·97 to Scarlet Fever; 1·37 to Influenza; 0·61 to Diphtheria and Fevers (0·15 of the latter to Typhus and 0·46 to Enteric); while 0·15 were due to Small Pox.

In the towns collectively, 1535 deaths were ascribed to Measles, the prevailing Epidemic of the year, being equal to 4·85 per cent. of the total mortality, and in the ratio of 10·5 per ten thousand of their united inhabitants; 855 of these occurred in Glasgow; 233 in Dundee; 169 in Edinburgh; and 127 in Greenock. Hooping-Cough is the cause of 1111 exits, equivalent to 3·51 per cent. of the total deaths, or 7·6 per ten thousand, of the population; 711 of these are in Glasgow; 157 in Edinburgh; and 131 in Dundee. Diarrhœa and Dysentery caused 1118 deaths, forming 3·53 per cent. of the total, or 7·7 per ten thousand of population; 519 of these are in Glasgow; 210 in Dundee; and 147 in Edinburgh. To Diphtheria a total of 424 deaths is ascribed, in the ratio of 1·34 per cent. of all the deaths, and 2·9 in every ten thousand of the inhabitants; of these 208 occur in Glasgow; and 59 in Edinburgh. Scarlet Fever caused 400 deaths, 1·26 per cent. of the total mortality, and 2·7 per ten thousand of the inhabitants, 263 of these are in Glasgow; and 57 in Edinburgh. Fevers caused 323 deaths, 1·02 per cent. of all or 2·2 per ten thousand of population. Typhoid or Enteric caused 279 of these; Typhus 35; and Simple or Ill Defined 9; the largest number of deaths from Typhus occurring in Dundee and Glasgow, and from Typhoid in Glasgow, Paisley and Edinburgh. Influenza caused 291 deaths, 84 of which are in Glasgow, and 81 in Edinburgh. Small Pox this year causes 40 deaths, 26 in Glasgow; 10 in Leith; and 1 each in Edinburgh, Dundee, Aberdeen, and Perth. Of these 22 were stated to have been vaccinated, 15 were not vaccinated, while in 3 this point is not noted.

Zymotics together caused 5711 deaths in the proportion of 18·05 per cent. of the total mortality, or 39·1 in every ten thousand of the inhabitants of the aforesaid eight Towns. Syphilis caused 103 deaths; Erysipelas 109; and Puerperal Fever 104.

Diseases of a constitutional character caused 5458 deaths, equivalent to 17·25 per cent. of the total, or 37·4 in every ten thousand of the population. Rheumatism and Rheumatic Fever caused 130 deaths; Cancer caused 1037, at the rate of 3·28 per cent. of the total deaths, and 7·1 in every ten thousand of the population; most marked in Edinburgh, Aberdeen and Leith. Gout caused 6 deaths. Phthisis accounts for 2902; at the rate of 9·17 per cent. of the total mortality, or 19·9 per ten thousand of the population; the highest rate occurring in Paisley, Edinburgh, Aberdeen, Perth, and Leith. Tubercular Meningitis caused 506 deaths. Tabes Mesenterica 408, and other forms of the Tubercular condition, 299.

From diseases of the nervous system there are 3,440 deaths, equivalent to 10·87 per cent. of the total, and in the proportion of 23·6 in every ten thousand of the population. The former rate falls in each town as follows:—14·44 per cent. in Perth; 13·80 per cent. in Greenock; 12·91 per cent. in Aberdeen; 12·42 per cent. in Paisley; 11·32 per cent. in Edinburgh; 10·32 per cent. in Glasgow; 9·51 per cent. in Dundee; and 9·11 per cent. in Leith; the latter rate, that to every ten thousand of their respective estimated inhabitants being 31·3 in Perth; 28·9 in Greenock; 27·2 in Paisley; 24·1 in Glasgow; 23·8 in Aberdeen; 22·3 in Edinburgh; 21·1 in Dundee; and 17·3 in Leith.

Diseases of the Circulatory Organs caused 2347 exits, equal to 7·42 per cent. of all the deaths, and 16·1 in each ten thousand of the inhabitants, the latter rate being in the case of each town as follows:—20·4 in Perth; 19·7 in Edinburgh; 16·8 in Dundee; 15·6 in Aberdeen; 15·5 in Paisley; 14·9 in Glasgow; 13·9 in Leith; and 13·1 in Greenock.

Diseases of the Respiratory Organs caused 6646 deaths, which is in the ratio of 21·01 per cent. of the total, and equivalent to 45·6 in every ten thousand of the inhabitants. This latter rate falls as follows in each town:—Dundee, 52·3; Glasgow, 51·4; Paisley, 42·1; Perth, 39·2; Greenock, 37·8; Edinburgh, 37·4; Leith, 36·9; and Aberdeen, 35·3. Bronchitis claims 2978; Pneumonia 2640, the highest ratios from both being in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Paisley; Pleurisy caused 164 deaths, and Croup 234.

From diseases of the Organs of Digestion there are 2192 deaths, 6·93 per cent. of the total, and equivalent to 15·0 in each ten thousand of population. Enteritis caused 551 deaths; Peritonitis, 284; Liver Disease, 326; and Dentition, 196.

Diseases of the Urinary Organs caused 819 deaths, in the proportion of 2·59 per cent. of the total mortality, and 5·6 per ten thousand population. Of these 205 are ascribed to Acute Nephritis; and 303 to Bright's Disease.

Premature Births account for 859 deaths, Congenital Malformations for 169; while 1056 are credited to Old Age.

From Atrophy and Debility 979 deaths are registered; from Dropsy, 36; while in 173 the death was sudden and the cause not sufficiently ascertained, or was due to ill-defined or ill-specified causes.

1046 deaths in these towns were due to Violence, forming 3·31 per cent. of all, and equal to 7·2 deaths in every ten thousand of their inhabitants. Of these 969 were due to Accident or Negligence; while 77 were from causes other than these, being Homicidal or Suicidal.

To Intemperance 116 deaths are ascribed.

Of Old People, 103 died in the towns at ages of 90 and upwards, 27 being men, and 76 women. The oldest were 4 females, all widows, two 100 years of age, one 101, and one 102.

MARRIAGES IN EIGHT TOWNS.

12,071 marriages are registered in these towns during 1893, being in the proportion of 82 in every ten thousand of their estimated inhabitants. The rate in Glasgow was 87; in Edinburgh, it was 86; in Dundee, it was 73; in Aberdeen, it was 81; in Leith, it was 76; in Paisley, it was 73; in Greenock, it was 64; and in Perth, it was 84 per ten thousand.

WEATHER AND ITS INFLUENCE ON MORTALITY.

The following remarks on the weather of the year are extracted from the Notes of the Astronomer-Royal, which appear in the Registrar-General's Quarterly Reports:—

The first half of January was very cold, but about the 17th the temperature rose generally throughout the country; hence the mean temperature is but slightly below the average. Barometric pressure, on the other hand, was high and steady, but not unprecedentedly so.

February was a seasonable month as to average temperature, although the beginning of the month and the third week were marked by a decidedly warm series of days and nights. Barometric pressure, while normal as to range, was lower than it has been since February 1885.

The month of March was singularly warm, dry, and calm, with the high and steady barometric pressure characteristic of such weather at that season. To find so warm a March it is necessary to go back ten years to 1883, when the mean temperature was two degrees warmer.

The month of April was unusually warm in temperature, with a large diurnal variation, with high and comparatively steady barometric pressure, and with a wind velocity under the average, in which eastern and western winds were most frequently represented. The rainfall, nearly the whole of which fell from the 15th to the 20th of the month, was 31 per cent. under the average rainfall of the eight Towns.

May was a month with unusually high temperature, with a diurnal variation a little under the average, high and comparatively steady barometric pressure, and a wind velocity slightly under the average, in which east winds were two days above, and west winds two days under, the mean.

The temperature was 4°·4 above the average, being absolutely the warmest May since these observations began in 1856.

The rainfall on the mean of the Eight Towns was 14 per cent. under the average.

June was, on the whole, a month with a temperature decidedly above the average, a mean rainfall nearly the average, and a barometric pressure and range a little above the average.

July was, on the average, a month with a barometric pressure and a temperature a little above the average, a daily range of temperature, a mean humidity, and a rainfall, both as regards amount and frequency of fall, the average.

The weather of August was characterised by a temperature higher than has been yet recorded since the Meteorological Society was established in 1855. An average rainfall, and a barometric pressure and range above the average. It was the sixth consecutive month of the year whose temperature was above the average.

The month of September was characterised by a marked predominance of westerly winds somewhat above the average strength, with a temperature and rainfall under the average. Barometric pressure was rather low, but a little higher at western than at eastern stations in the same latitude, resulting in an excess of northerly winds and a reduced temperature and humidity.

October was characterised by a barometric pressure and range under the average, a marked predominance of westerly and deficiency of easterly wind, and a mean temperature fully a degree above the average.

November was characterised by a marked predominance of northerly winds, a temperature fully a degree under the average, and a rainfall decidedly under the average, except at Aberdeen, where it exceeded it.

December was marked by a very unsteady barometer, an unusual predominance of W. and S.W. winds blowing with a force considerably above the average, a very high temperature, and an excess of four rainy days.

Tables XIII. and XIV. indicate some facts regarding the Meteorological conditions of the year and the effects thereof upon the mortality among the inhabitants which occurred during each month of 1893, corresponding information as to the mean of ten years (1881-1890) being given alongside for comparison. The first two and the last two months shew the lowest mean temperature. The mean temperature of the year is nearly 2° above the mean of the ten years, and in the case of each month with the exception of January, September and November, the mean temperature for the present year is above that of the mean of the same for the ten-year series. The actual proportionate mortality is highest during the coldest months of January, November and December, the lowest on the other hand, during the warmer months of summer and early autumn.

Table XV., which refers to the Eight Towns, shews the connection between certain meteorological conditions and the deaths from the more important miasmatic and some other diseases during each month.

There are 40 deaths from Small-pox in these towns during the year, 5 of them registered during January, 9 during February, 7 during March, 3 during April, 4 during May, 1 during June, July and November, and 9 during December. The greater mortality from Measles and its sequelæ occurred during the earlier months of the year, the least during the last four months. Scarlet Fever shews the largest number of deaths during January, falling thereafter more or less gradually, until the later winter months, when the deaths from it again rise in number. Hooping-Cough causes a large number of deaths during each month, and indicates no special regularity in rise and fall, the smallest number of deaths registered from it being during March, the largest during August, May and December. Diphtheria caused its highest mortality during the autumnal and winter months, as is also much the same in the case of Fevers. Diarrhœal Affections bulk most largely during the months of summer and autumn.

Phthisis or Consumption shews no very marked increase or decrease throughout the year, the largest number of deaths from this disease being registered during the spring months, the smallest during those of autumn.

The more acute pulmonary affections, as Bronchitis, and Pneumonia, are distinctly most apparent as a cause of death during the winter months of January, November and December, the months which give the lowest mean temperature, and when the weather was most inclement, the milder months of July, August, and September, shewing the fewest deaths from such diseases; and very much the same occurs with diseases of the Heart and Circulatory System, the most severe work being laid upon those organs during the colder months of the year, and in direct connection therewith we have the mortality from Cerebral diseases.

Tables XVII. and XVIII. indicate the number of deaths registered during each month at four series of ages. Thus the mortality among children under 5 years of age was most marked during January, May, June, and July, the least so during September and October.

Among Adolescents, or those between 5-20 years, the greatest mortality was during January, May, June, July, and November, the least during September and October.

Adults, or those between 20-60 years, suffered in largest numbers during January, November, and December the reverse occurring during July, and September.

The Aged, or those over 60 years of age, succumbed in largest numbers during January, March, November, and December, the opposite during the summer months June, July, August, and September.

The general mortality among the residents in these Eight Towns was greatest during January, gradually falling during November, December, March, May, April, July, June, February, August, October, and September.

VACCINATION OF CHILDREN

BORN IN SCOTLAND DURING 1892.

The returns of Vaccination for the year 1892 show that of the 125,119 children born in Scotland, 107,352, or 85·800 per cent. were successfully vaccinated. In 2468 cases the operation was postponed upon medical authority, being at the rate of 1·972 per cent.; in 345 cases, or 0·276 per cent., the children were certified to be insusceptible of vaccination from some constitutional peculiarity; and 216 or 0·173 per cent. were insusceptible in consequence of having been vaccinated, but by persons who were not qualified to grant certificates to that effect. No cases occurred in which children were insusceptible in consequence of having already had Small-pox; 11,693 children, or 9·345 per cent. of those born, died before vaccination; and 3,045, or 2·434 per cent. were removed from the districts in which they were born, and consequently lost sight of, or in some other way were unaccounted for. The proportion of cases successfully vaccinated is 0·590 per cent. below the average for the previous ten years; while for the year 1891, the proportion was 1·404 below, and for 1890, it was 1·690 below the average for the previous ten years. The proportion of postponed cases is 0·142 per cent. above the average for the previous ten years; while for the years 1891, and 1890, the proportions above the same average were respectively 0·345, and 0·592.

In Table XX. the number of children is omitted who died before vaccination, the proportion being given to the total number living. From this Table it appears that of the 113,426 children who live to the age of six months, 107,352 or 94·645 per cent. were successfully vaccinated; in 2468 cases, or 2·176 per cent., vaccination was postponed; 345 or 0·304 per cent. were certified to be constitutionally insusceptible of vaccination, and 216 or 0·190 per cent were insusceptible from previous successful vaccination. In 3045 cases, or 2·685 per cent., the children were unaccounted for in consequence of having left the district in which they were born, or from some other cause.

In Table XXI. is given a statement of the deaths from Small-pox in Scotland from 1855 to 1893, the numbers for the last two years, however, being those which occurred in Eight of the Principal Towns only.

Table XXII. shows that 40 deaths were caused by Small-pox in the Eight Principal Towns, of which particulars of the deaths are given in the Monthly Reports. Of these 26 occurred in Glasgow, one in Edinburgh, one in Dundee, one in Aberdeen, 10 in Leith, and one in Perth. This Table also shows the number of deaths from Small-pox for two periods of ten years, viz., from 1865-74, and 1875-84, and also for the ten years before the Vaccination Act came into operation, viz, 1855-64.

N.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus:—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals thus:—CARLUKE.
An asterisk “*” is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or are comprised of more, or parts of more than one Parish, and the component parts of these Districts will be found on page 43.
A dagger “†” is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.
‡ Registration District of Whalsay and Skerries was subdivided as at 1st January 1893.
§ Vaccination Returned not received.

† The Returns from the remote Island of St Kilda are received with so much irregularity that they appear only in the Detailed Annual Reports.

VACCINATIONS, 1892.

EXTRACTS FROM THE REGISTRARS' NOTES RELATIVE TO THE WORKING OF THE VACCINATION ACT.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

73. KNOCKBAIN.—Vaccination has all along been well attended to in this parish. In 30 years only two cases of failure are noted, in both of which the parents were only temporarily resident, and on removal were lost sight of.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

95. DAVIOT AND DUNLIGHTY. — Considering that there is no Medical Practitioner within the bounds of the parish, the vaccination of children is well attended to.

97. (3) NORTH MORAR. — The five children unaccounted for were registered late in the year, and have not been vaccinated owing to the frequent changes of vaccinators.

99. (2) LOCHABER. — There is great difficulty in getting the vaccination certificates in in time, owing chiefly to the wide extent of the parish. It would save immense trouble if the time were extended to 12 months.

Insular.

110. (1) DUIRINISH. — The number in Col. 7 is abnormal, and can only be accounted for by the prevalence of Measles and Scarlatina, also the boisterous state of the weather. The Registrar believes the great hindrance to the operation of the Vaccination Act in the district is the fee charged,—viz., 2s. 6d. for Certificate in Form A., and 6d. for Certificate in Form B. Children in certain cases are successfully vaccinated but a certificate is not granted till the fee is paid, and in many cases the matter stands over too long.

111. (1) NORTH HARRIS. — Vaccination a good deal behind as the vaccinator could not attend at the different stations on account of the severity of the weather.

111. (2) SOUTH HARRIS. — It is to be hoped that when the weather gets better and more suitable for vaccination, the number now appearing as being unvaccinated will be all cleared off.

112. (2) STENSCHOLL. — The vaccination of some of the children was delayed in consequence of the severe weather.

113. NORTH UIST. — The Registrar is aware that some of the children entered as unaccounted for have been vaccinated, but not certified, on account of the stormy and cold weather, the winter having been exceptionally severe.

114. (1) PORTREE. — For the last 3 months there has been a prevalence of Scarlatina, and the vaccinator would not vaccinate, but postponed the cases.

114. (2) RAASAY. — In the north end of this district the operation of the Vaccination Act is in a very backward state.

118. (3) BOISDALE. — Influenza has been very general in the district for many months back, and it was considered unsafe to bring children together for the purpose of vaccination. This accounts for the large number in Col. 7.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

9. BANFF.

159. KEITH. — With careful looking after there is no difficulty in getting vaccination certificates.

167. SEAFIELD. — The Registrar has reason to believe that most of the eleven postponed cases have been successfully vaccinated, though the requisite certificates have not been received.

10. ABERDEEN.

168. (2) ABERDEEN (OLD MACHAR PARISH). — The Parochial Board of Old Machar still adhere to their resolution passed some years ago, not to prosecute defaulters till the Report by the Royal Commission on Vaccination is issued. Col. 7 includes ten cases reported on by the Inspector of Poor, as having left the district, six cases in which no certificate or report has been received, and four cases where the postponement certificate had expired previous to 31st December, but will probably be renewed.

173. AUCHTERLESS. — It is anticipated that the new stamped schedules will be of great service in obviating delay in procuring the return of the certificates.

222. (a) MIDMAR.—Vaccination well attended to. No defaulters for a number of years.

249. (b) YTHAN WELLS.—Considerable difficulty is experienced in getting in some of the schedules, and a large number of notices had to be sent out. This is due, not to parents' unwillingness to vaccinate their children, but to a mistaken notion that it is the Doctor and not they who are responsible for the sending in of the notices.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

282. (5) DUNDEE (LOCHEE).—It is the custom of some Doctors to vaccinate children and retain the certificate until their fee is paid, and this is the reason why so many are still unaccounted for.

288. FORFAR.—There is no difficulty in carrying out the provisions of the Act, but the Registrar thinks that it would prove beneficial to have the period for the return of the certificate altered from 6 months to 4 months.

307. (1) MAINS.—One child, after five postponements, had a certificate granted putting off vaccination sine die; and in another case vaccination has been postponed fourteen times. In neither of these has the operation yet been performed. Some provision should be made for cases like these.

13. PERTH.

394. (b) STRATHFILLAN.—The parents of the children entered in Col. 7 have left the district and cannot be traced. They were residing in the locality only temporarily, in connection with the construction of the West Highland Railway.

14. FIFE.

411. BURNTISLAND.—Owing to the closing of the works of the Burntisland Oil Company a number of miners and their families left the district, and it has been found difficult, in some instances, to recover their vaccination certificates.

433. KEMBACK.—Vaccination certificates are handed in with great regularity, and invariably before the child is 6 months old.

V. WEST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

19. ARGYLL.

Mainland.

525. (1) LISMORE.—All the cases unaccounted for were duly reported to the Parochial Board, but in consequence of the Medical Officer attending Diphtheria cases, he is unwilling to go among the children in the meantime.

526. LOCHGILPHEAD.—The postponements are somewhat abnormal in number, but this is to be accounted for by the general sickness amongst children, particularly at Ardrishaig during the summer and autumn months. It is almost an axiom for Lochfyneside, that when the visitors arrive from the large centres of population, infantile diseases set in amongst the natives, and retard the process of vaccination.

VI. SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

22. AYR.

590. (2) TROON.—The Registrar is still of opinion that the Medical Officer should be paid a small fee for vaccination, as it would obviate the necessity of reminding parents by letter when the 6 months are expired. About one-third had to be written to, and some more than once.

23. LANARK.

627. CAMBUSLANG.—A parent was fined 10s. without expenses, on 6th October last, for refusing to have his child vaccinated.

649. LESMAHAGOW.—One parent refuses to allow his child to be vaccinated. The case is reported to the Procurator-Fiscal.

* The actual number of Districts is 1056—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 5 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.
